While The Master’s Study has paid staff to tutor your child(ren), we could not function without the help of many volunteers. Volunteerism is key to the preservation of safe adult/student ratios during peak student business hours, including lunch time, lunch recess, and dismissal. In addition, volunteers allow us to be better stewards of the space allotted to us on TMS school days, to bless our teachers with supervision of their tiny ones and help in the classroom, and assist with special event days.

- I understand that TMS seeks a spirit of volunteerism from her families a minimum of 6 times per academic year. Areas of volunteerism include, but are not limited to: assisting with the supervision of children in a classroom setting (primarily preschool), supervision of children during the lunch or recess hour, assistance with the basic cleaning and set up of classrooms, help in the staff nursery, and assisting with special events set up, tear down, &/or organization as well as the muscles of our men and asks fathers and/or grandfathers to volunteer for a period of 90 minutes as “Manpower for the Lunch Hour” once during the academic year.
- I am a returning TMS parent
- I am a new Applicant
New families should complete a Parent Interest and Volunteerism survey.

Liability Release

This must be completed annually. Returning and New TMS families must submit a signed and dated liability release in order to proceed with enrollment consideration and placement.

The undersigned, being both of the parents/guardians of the child(ren) enrolled in courses with The Master's Study, hereby acknowledge that the child(ren) will be participating in educational and recreational programs that involve physical activity and interaction with other children. The undersigned acknowledge that their child(ren) is physically able to participate in school activities requiring physical effort and that the child(ren) has no restrictions on physical activities other than the following:

Student Name	Restrictions

The undersigned hereby acknowledges an understanding of the Statement of Faith, Code of Conduct and school by school Parent & Student Expectations under which TMS is governed and operates. Furthermore, the undersigned recognize that photographs and/or video of students may be obtained during the course of a normal TMS day, TMS special event, or TMS performance. TMS reserves the right to use such images within the TMS community in formats such as printed material and intra-net publications, as well as public venues, including but not limited to printed materials, the public internet site, and other media. The Master's Study will not identify any student without express permission from the parent(s).

The undersigned hereby releases The Master's Study, its agents, directors, members, officers, successors, and assigns from any and all claims, losses or damages that might arise from their child(ren)'s and/or their own participation in The Master's Study. The undersigned agree that The Master's Study will not be responsible for injuries, losses, damages or claims incurred whether on the premises from which The Master's Study operates or otherwise, incurred from the use of The Master's Study property or apparatus, or incurred while participating in The Master's Study activities. This release shall be interpreted broadly and include losses, claims, injuries or damages relating to person, personal property, tangible property or intangible property.
