

You are invited!

Please consider yourself cordially invited to a day at The Master's Study! Our Spring Family Introductory Teas are just around the corner, and we would love to have you join us.

Master's is made of families just like yours. We are a community of students who gather together to build upon and enhance what is already being taught in their homes by their parents – their teachers. Taking a classical approach to a student's education, Master's shares in your journey and offers students the opportunity to grow in the areas of history, writing, literature, science, speech and debate, art and music – all with the thread of a Christian worldview. Master's also seeks to foster a sense of community and provide weekly fellowship for its entire student body. All along the way, TMS serves as the gentle nudge to keep pushing you forward in your homeschooling journey.

The best way to understand Master's is to see us in action. Please join us for one of our tea days: Monday, February 21st, Monday, March 21st, or Monday, April 18th.

8:30 – 8:45 Arrive and Settle Children into Classes

8:45-9:00 Welcome! Gather your thoughts over coffee & tea! Listen to Mrs. Benson discuss Progym

9:00 – 11:30 Prospective students (K-12) will have the opportunity to join other TMS students in their classes, while parents have the option of sitting in classes, visiting other classrooms, or visiting with other TMS families. Learn more about our current program and the exciting growth plan ahead.

11:30-12:00 Wrap up your morning at Master's with a light finger-food lunch and short presentations from Mrs. Cindy Brumbarger, Head Mistress of The Master's Study. You'll also have an opportunity to hear from a members of the TMS family and a TMS faculty members.

Be sure to have your student bring a lunch; they can enjoy getting to know others in the lunchroom. Nursery is not provided, but parents are welcome to bring quiet, easily entertained little ones with them.

The Master's Study meets at College Park Church, located at the intersection of Towne Road and 96th Street on the NW side of Indianapolis. Please enter the church through the north doors and proceed upstairs. A TMS ambassador will be available to help you find your way!

Please RSVP to Admin@TheMastersStudy.org no later than the Wednesday prior. Be sure to include your name, the names of your students attending, and their traditional "grade" in school for the upcoming year.

We look forward to having you as our guests at The Master's Study!
